Description

The National Institute of Justice (NIJ) is the research, development, and evaluation agency of the U.S. Department of Justice and a component of the Office of Justice Programs (OJP). NIJ provides objective, independent, evidence-based knowledge and tools to enhance the administration of justice and public safety. NIJ solicits applications to inform its search for the knowledge and tools to guide policy and practice. NIJ seeks evaluations of technologies designed to prevent and reduce crime and improve the functioning of the criminal justice system. NIJ is specifically interested in evaluations that determine if the application of existing or newly developed technologies works to improve outcomes. Evaluations should focus on technologies that are fully functional and readily applicable in operational settings. Additionally, outcome evaluations must have well-defined, measurable indicators of success; applications that focus on the measurable impact of technologies on reduction in crime will be given priority. Additional outcome measures may include better monitoring, tracking, or identification and apprehension of criminal suspects; effective tracking and recovery of stolen property; reduced criminal opportunities; and reduced injuries to officers, suspects, and/or bystanders.
